THE AHOM HERO LACHIT BORPHUKAN

And
His LOVE for the Country.

Lachit Borphukan was born on 24th of November 1622 at charaideo in Assam.

The Ahom Kingdom lies in the present-day state of Assam, India. Its Borphukan was Lachit Borphukan, one of its rulers. Assam or Ahom Kingdom was under the command of Ramsingh at the time of the 1671 Battle of Saraighat, where his leadership thwarted an attempt to recapture that kingdom. His illness led to his death about a year later.

Assamese history cannot be complete without the name Lachit Borphukan. As a warrior of warriors, he holds a special place in history. Mughal Emperor Aurangzeb sent Mughals to seize Assam in 1671 and he defeated

Them at the battle of saraighat. Assam was nearly captured by the Mughals, but the warrior's Captainship prevented them from doing so.

There are tales of valor in every state of community. In the history of Assam, The state also had a Brave commander in chief. The day before the battle, he erected a Substantial boundary of Sand and Soil to block the roads. This was so that the Mughals could be forced to march through the river Brahmaputra's Waterways. As a result of their excellent naval combat capabilities. In order to complete the job within one night, Borphukan assigned the task to his Maternal Uncle. In spite of this, his Uncle somehow neglected his duties. After this incident, Lachit became Assam's national hero after beheading his Uncle with a sword and saying, "Dexot Koi Mornai Dangos Nohoi." (My Uncle is not more precious than my own country).

Furthermore, he suffered from severe fever attacks during the final battle. As he lay on the bed, he was resting. In light of Lachit's poor health, some Soldiers Said they lost confidence in him His aim was to keep the Soldiers' Passion alive. His patriotic fight in the 17th century Saved Assam from being captured by the Mughals when he ordered his fellowman to mount his bed on the boat. As a result of his ill health,

The physicians asked Lachit not to go out on the battlefield at a crucial stage of the battle this was because he was very ill. As the Mughal Army advanced and Lachit's health deteriorated, the morale of the ahom army was deteriorating. In the end, Lachit realized that his ~~health~~ was less significant than his duty to protect his people. According to the record, he said: In the midst of an invasion against my country and my army fighting and sacrificing its lives, how can I rest my body because I am ill? ~~My~~ country is in trouble. How can I think about heading home to my wife to my children?"

The brave Borphukan asked for seven boats loaded with bows and arrows to be brought to him because he knew fighting on land would be difficult for him. From the river, he prepared for war and attacked.

After the war, lachit Borphukan passed away. Despite the brutal invasions of the Islamic tyrants, Assam's culture remains intact to this day. Our civilization has survived all types of onslaughts because of brave hearts like Lachit Borphukan and Shivaji during the dark days of Aurangzeb's tyranny.

The Battle of Saraighat is commemorated annually in Assam on 24th November as Lachit Divas (lit. Lachit day) to honor Lachit Borphukan's heroism.

Conclusion:-

Lachit's patriotism, bravery dutifulness, and determination are enshrined in the history of Assam. In the face of opposition from the mighty Moghul army, Lachit also succeeded in restoring and upholding the freedom of his country and people. Assamese patriotism can be attributed to Lachit Barphukan.
